A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Wm. Ramsay, the groom responding.

An Important Service

AS A LEADING AGRICULTURAL country Canada has advanced far in the training of experts in the various fields of scientific and technical agriculture. Almost every province has at least one agricultural college for the training of students and, in addition, the federal and provincial governments assist in many ways in spreading technical knowledge and information concerning improved methods of farming among Canadian farmers. Frequently parties of scientists and technical experts from other countries visit Canada to study what is being done here, and many Canadian agriculturalists go abroad to gain wider knowledge of their work.

Very Active In This Work

In recent years it has become clear that one means of working for world peace and prosperity lies in helping people of less privileged countries than ours to improve living standards and to make the best use of their own land. The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations has been very active in this work and has done much to organize a technical agriculture service for countries which have need of such help. Representatives of the F.A.O. visited Canada recently and outlined plans for giving increased technical aid for economic development. Funds for such aid have been available only since October, 1950, but since that time seven projects have been completed and work has started on sixty-one others.

Will Be Need For More Men

These projects are divided among thirty-two countries and very widely. However, they deal mainly with agriculture, fisheries, nutrition and forestry and they aim, in all cases, at improved living conditions. As more money becomes available the work will be expanded, and there will be need for many more experts to carry on the service. So far, a number of governments interested in the work of the F.A.O., as well as universities and research centres in various countries have assisted in supplying qualified men for the projects. Five Canadians have been among the 125 experts which have been engaged in this work, but it is hoped that in the future more from the ranks of Canada's agricultural scientists and technicians will take part in this useful and important service.

Alberta Oil May Save $150,000,000 In U.S. Funds

(By Ed Hadley in Montreal Daily Star)

WASHINGTON—Alberta oil may save Canada as much as $150,000,000 in U.S. funds next year, it was estimated here. That would be half of the cost of the Dominion's total imports of petroleum products last year.

The estimate was made authoritatively by a Washington publication, the U.S. News and World Report, which recently sent a representative to tour the expanding oil fields.

His report said that "a new mile-post has been reached in the western Canadian oil boom," and forecast "stiff competition for American oil companies which have long had a major share of markets in Ontario and eastern Canada."

"Canada last year imported $300,000,000 worth of oil products," it added, "mainly from the U.S. and Venezuela. Wider use of Alberta oil will sharply cut down this tremendous drain on Canada's dollar resources. Estimates are that this oil bill will be cut in half next year."

The report said that Alberta oil, already meeting requirements of the Prairie provinces, now is looking "for new fields to conquer."

"It moves from Alberta fields to the Great Lakes by the pipe line completed last year, is refined at Sarnia, Ont., and is being distributed as far east as Toronto," the report continued.

"Price of this oil is cut to under-sell Texas oils in Ontario. Alberta production is being stepped up to meet the new demands."

"Canadian oil production as a whole will probably rise 25 or 30 per cent. this year over last. It is now about five times as large as in 1947."

It is noted that proven reserves in Alberta already exceed 1,200,000,000 barrels, and that $150,000,000 was spent there in development last year.

"Alberta oilmen also are eyeing the Pacific northwest market," the report continued. "U.S. Pacific northwest is a growing market for oil products, now supplied from California and Rocky Mountain oil fields."

"Canadian producers feel they could compete in this market. But expensive pipe lines through the Canadian Rockies will be needed. Aside from engineering difficulties, such pipe lines require huge quantities of steel. Steel shortages will probably hold up any such projects for a time."

Forecasts Lower Railway Rates

MEDICINE HAT, Alta.—A Canadian Pacific railway vice-president said that lower railway rates are a future possibility.

The executive, D. S. Thomson of Winnipeg, in charge of the railway's prairie region, also forecast new rail construction in densely-settled areas and in remote areas where new resources are being developed.

"I personally see no reason why, with our railroads converted to the standards that we must have to meet modern requirements, lower rates may not again become a possibility," said Mr. Thomson.

"In the meantime sufficient revenues are necessary not only for the railway's good, but for the continuing good of every Canadian citizen."

Manitoba To Get 200 Farm Workers

—From Germany

WINNIPEG.—Two hundred German farm workers will be coming to Manitoba under a provincial-sponsored plan to tap the pool of experienced agricultural labor in West Germany, Hon. F. C. Bell, minister of agriculture, announced.

Until recently, this labor source has not been made available to Manitoba farmers because of restrictions which barred entry of German nationals into the country.

With removal of these restrictions and the operation of the federal government assisted passage scheme, he had hoped, said Mr. Bell, "to encourage immigration from this highly desirable source."

"However, monetary restrictions and inconvertibility of German currency seemed at first to bar effectual transportation of West German citizens to Manitoba."

The Manitoba government, he added, then proposed it advance the necessary down payment ($30 per person) to assist selected immigrants. "This has been favorably received by the department of citizenship and immigration and an experimental selection of 200 immigrants has been authorized."

These men are expected to arrive by mid-August, in time for harvest. They will be committed to remain in the country for a two-year period or until their "indebtedness to both governments is liquidated."

Mr. Bell stressed it was of "utmost importance" that permanent agricultural employment be made available to immigrants and that "such conditions and terms be offered by our farmers as will induce them to remain in agriculture."

Notification of this plan has been sent to all local agricultural representatives, said Mr. Bell, and a concerted effort will be made to place them permanently. If the experiment is successful, he added, efforts will be made to get additional immigrants.

Sugar Beet Acreage Up In Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Man.—Manitoba acreage in sugar beets and all grains except rye shows an increase over last year, figures released by H. D. Wood, director of publications for the department of agriculture, revealed.

This year's sugar beet acreage stands at 22,000 acres, a nine-per-cent. increase over the 1950 crop which yielded 155,000 tons of beets.

Although rain is required, Mr. Wood said, farmers have taken advantage of the dry spell, and thus far have thinned out half the sugar beet crops.

Canada is looking for another 1,000,000-ton crop of sugar beets, he said. Some 105,800 acres have been seeded in Manitoba, Alberta, Ontario and Quebec, slightly below last year's record of 109,000 acres.

CANADA'S OLDEST DRIVER

WILL NOT BOOST PRICE
OTTAWA.—The government has decided against increasing the price of wheat sold to nations for making flour for consumption in Canada. Trade Minister Howe told the Commons.

Women Invading Again — Football

LETHBRIDGE, Alta.—Pass the pigskin, honey. The gals around here are interested in starting a football club.

If the girls' team is formed, a spokeswoman said, uniforms will have to be purchased and work-outs held to work the club into shape.

There's only one hitch — so far, there's nobody to play against.

Funny and Otherwise

Quakers as everybody knows, are gentle, calm folk. One awoke one night to find a burglar in the house. With a gun in his hand, the Quaker went into the room where the nocturnal visitor was looting.

"Friend," he said, "I would not harm thee nor any man in the world, but thou standest where I am about to shoot."

The burglar fled.

"That's a pretty bird, grandma," said a little boy.

"Yes, and he never cries," replied the old lady.

"That's because he's never washed," replied the youngster.

Boss: "Do you know what becomes of boys who don't tell the truth?"

Boy: "Yes, sir. You send them out as tr-vellers."

"Morning, nurse," said the jolly park-keeper.

"Wrong!" she replied, continuing to push her pram along. "Owner-driver."

"Have you ever noticed how a woman always lowers her voice when she asks a favor?"

"Yes, and raises it when she doesn't get it!"

"Anyone would think I was nothing but a cook in this house," the wife complained.

"Not after a couple of meals they wouldn't," her husband retorted.

"It's sickening the way my wife keeps talking about her first husband."

"You're lucky. Mine keeps talking about her next."

He: "I like that hat."

She: "Yes, I got it on your account."

A little girl came running up. "You generally do," to her mother. "Father's lying unconscious out on the porch. He's got a slip of paper in his hand and there's a huge box over there, too."

"How wonderful!" exclaimed the wife. "My new hat is here."

Shown her new baby brother for the first time, a little girl demanded to see his pockets.

"But he hasn't any yet," said her mother.

"Well," said the little girl, "I heard Daddy say the baby has brought five dollars a week with him."

Professor—"What would you administer to a person who had taken hydrocyanic acid?"

Missionary Student—"The sacrament."

Lady: "Can you give me a room and bath?"

Clerk: "I can give you a room madam, but you'll have to take your own bath."

LEARNING YOUNG—Making certain that his little grandson, "Hank" Beukema, learns military technique at an early age, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of joint chiefs of staff, presents the five-year-old with a special copy of his new book, "A Soldier's Story." The general's book is dedicated to "those soldiers who must often have wondered why they were going where they did. Perhaps this will be an answer to their questions."—Central Press Canadian.

Canadians Eating All Available Pork

OTTAWA.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner says there is little chance Canada will be selling any bacon to Britain this year.

Replying to J. A. Charlton (PC) Brant-Wentworth, Mr. Gardiner said Canada has an understanding with London that if there is any bacon available at a price offered by Britain it will be purchased by the latter. There was no indication now that there will be any bacon available at this lower price.

It was just possible the minister said, that if Canada has any spare bacon she might be able to get Britain to offer a higher price but at present Canadians are consuming pork as fast as it is available. Very little was going to the United States.

SHE SAID NO
KING'S LYNN, England.—A man accused of setting fire to a hotel here told the Magistrate he had started a fire in the corridor to smoke out a harridan from her room. She had refused to see him.

Vast Chemical Boom Predicted For Alberta

WINNIPEG.—Vast "imminent" developments involving $80,000,000 in Alberta's chemical industry were predicted by J. E. Oberholzer, deputy minister of industries and labor for Alberta, in an address to the Canadian Chemical conference at the University of Manitoba.

"A number of current happenings have combined to bring about the decisions of various companies to extend chemical production in Alberta."

"The discovery and rapid development of the Alberta oil field is the key item," the deputy minister said. Some developments planned, he said, were:

1. A development by the Canadian Salt company to produce approximately 20 tons of chlorine a day and 24 tons of caustic soda.

2. The Celanese Corporation of America plans to install the Canadian Chemical company near Edmonton to produce cellulose acetate and various chemicals.

"The possibilities are great," Mr. Oberholzer said. "In place of us we have petroleum refineries, two plants based on hydrocarbons, two on sulphur and one on salt."

They have fertilizers, synthetic fibres, caustic, chlorine and sulphur. We can envisage agricultural chemicals and pesticides, synthetic detergents, plastics and pharmaceuticals."

This expenditure, he predicted, will extend Alberta's building and construction boom, a population influx and increase, and in the future a further change over from agricultural to an industrial area.

Found Out Mounties Get Their Man

BURNABY, B.C.—A Mission driver who led police a 20-mile chase at high speeds through Burnaby and Vancouver, during which two shots were fired, was fined $250 in Police Court on a charge of dangerous driving.

William Henry Hart, who told officers he always wanted to see if he could get away from a mountie, was fined $50 on a second charge of driving while his licence was under suspension.

A farm hand WORTHY OF HIS HIRE

WORKS WELL IN ANY WEATHER

Like the industrious and worthy farm hand that always strives to further the best interests of his employer, Esso Gasoline and Esso Diesel fuels can always be depended on for top notch performance. Perfectly blended, they start well on cold harvest mornings, respond instantly when you push down on your accelerator and are mellow for economy—they help you get the greatest number of acres per barrel.

You can depend on all three

ESSO GASOLINE—A high quality gasoline for high compression engines. Its anti-knock qualities help your tractor develop maximum power and efficiency. It is "tailored to the season" for better starting and smooth performance in all kinds of weather.

ACTO GASOLINE—A high quality gasoline for medium compression engines that cannot take full advantage of the extra power and anti-knock qualities of Esso Gasoline.

ESSO DIESEL FUEL—For Diesel farm tractors that require a fuel that is refined to close specifications. Fast starting and smooth running on cold days.
